Website Privacy Policy

Panagia Medical Recovery Clinic, PLLC
Effective date: November 11, 2026

Our commitment

Panagia Medical Recovery Clinic, PLLC ("Panagia," "we," "us") does not track visitors to this website, does not use advertising pixels or analytics tools, and never sells or shares information about you. We know that simply visiting an addiction medicine website can be sensitive, and we built this site so that a visit leaves nothing behind with us or with advertisers.

What this policy covers

This policy applies only to our public website, panagiaclinic.com. It does not cover your medical care or your patient records.

If you are a patient, your health information is protected by federal law, including HIPAA and the federal confidentiality rules for substance use disorder records (42 CFR Part 2). How we use and protect that information is explained in our Notice of Privacy Practices, which you receive at intake and can request from our front desk at any time. It is also available on our website.

What we do not do

When you browse this website, we do not:

- Ask you to create an account or log in
- Collect your name, email, phone number, or health information through the website
- Use tracking pixels, such as the Meta (Facebook) Pixel, or similar code from TikTok, LinkedIn, X, or Google Ads
- Use analytics tools, such as Google Analytics, that record which pages you visit
- Use session-recording, heat-map, or chat tools that watch how you use the site
- Show ads or use retargeting, so you will not see ads elsewhere because you visited us
- Sell, rent, trade, or share information about our visitors with anyone, for any purpose

Because we do not sell or share personal information, there is nothing to opt out of.

Basic technical information

Like every website, ours has to be delivered to your browser by a web server. Our hosting provider, Vercel, automatically processes basic technical information to do that, such as your IP address, browser type, the page requested, and the time of the request. This information is used only to deliver the site, keep it secure, and prevent abuse. We do not use it to identify you, build a profile of you, or market to you. Vercel's handling of this data is described in its own privacy policy.

Cookies

We do not use advertising, analytics, or tracking cookies. If the site ever uses a cookie, it will only be one strictly needed for the site to work, and we will not use it to track you.

Do Not Track and Global Privacy Control

Because we do not track visitors or sell or share personal information, our website already treats every visitor as if they had turned on Do Not Track or Global Privacy Control.

If you contact us

The website has no contact forms. If you call, fax, or write to us, we use what you share only to respond to you and to schedule or provide care. Once you become a patient, that information is protected as described in our Notice of Privacy Practices.

Calling our office during business hours is the best way to reach us.

If you are in crisis or having a medical emergency, call 911. For mental health or substance use crisis support, call or text 988.

Links to other websites

Our site links to outside services, such as Google Maps for directions. When you click one of these links, you leave our website, and that company's own privacy policy applies. We do not control what those sites collect.

Children

This website is not directed to anyone under the age of 18, and we do not knowingly collect information from minors.

Security

The site is served only over an encrypted connection (HTTPS). Because we do not collect personal information through the website, there is no visitor data stored here to be exposed.

Changes to this policy

If we change this policy, we will post the new version here and update the effective date above. If we ever begin collecting information through the website, we will update this policy before we do.
